KRUG SEEKING TO HALT COAL
TIEUP NOV. 20OPERATORS CALLED TO CONFERENCE
IN WASHINGTON

(By The Associated Press)

Secretary of Interior Krug, seeking to avert a threatened new soft coal strike and to restore the mines to private ownership, invited coal operators to meet with him Wednesday.

The operators have been absent from current conferences between representatives of the government and the United Mine Workers seeking to avert a threatened walkout of 400,000 soft coal diggers Nov. 20.

Edward R. Burke, head of the Southern Coal Producers Association, termed Krug's move the "only sensible thing to do." He added, however, that "it doesn't look too hopeful" for an agreement between John L. Lewis and the operators.

The operators have declined to approve the present contract between Lewis and the government. Lewis has decided to terminate this contract Nov. 20 and a new soft coal walkout presumably will follow unless some agreement is reached. The government took the mines last May during a strike in the soft coal fields.

Meanwhile, peace talks in the 196 day old Allis Chalmers strike continued in Chicago and the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. opened contract talks on the CIO United Auto Workers demand for a "substantial" wage increase.

R. J. Thomas, vice president of the CIO-UAW, said Monday he hoped for settlement of the Allis Chalmers strike "within a week."

Under the Kaiser-Frazer contract, wages are fixed until the present agreement expires Jan. 9. The contract talks were started in advance in Detroit in an effort to reach an agreement before the contract deadline.

Other labor developments: Violence broke out again in the Hollywood movie labor dispute when an explosion, which police said apparently was caused by a hand grenade, blew in a window and severely damaged the home of a non-striking technician. The dispute caused a halt in production of a picture by Hunt Stromberg, an independent producer, when carpenters walked off the set.

In Washington, the government continued negotiations seeking to end the strike of AFL Trans World Airline Pilots.

Gates Of Palestine
Opened For 1,893
Jewish Immigrants

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—The British government opened the gates of Palestine today to 1,893 of the Jewish immigrants whose flight from Europe to the Holy Land was stopped short in detention camps because they lacked entry permits.

The colonial office announced that 1,950 Jews deported to the island of Cyprus since August after being intercepted as "illegal" immigrants would be admitted to Palestine between Nov. 15 and Jan. 14.

Another 843 now held in Athlit camp in Palestine also will be released. They are the last of the irregular immigrants detained in Palestine. The remainder of the 2,000 immigration permits for the two-month period will go to Jews in German displaced persons camps, to illegal immigrants serving with British forces, and to the relatives of Palestinians already promised entry.

The action did not constitute a revision of the normal 1,500 quota of immigrants allowed into Palestine each month.

CROPS LARGEST
IN U. S. HISTORYHarvest Weather Proves
Ideal In October;
Frosts Delayed

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Favored by ideal fall harvest weather in October, the nation is virtually assured its largest output of crops in history, the agriculture department reported today.

A record production had been forecast previously, but unusually good weather the past four weeks, which improved yields per acre of many crops, brought the prediction to realization.

The department said killing frosts had not occurred by November 1 in most important production areas, even in the north. It said harvest is near completion, the only exceptions being the usual proportion of the huge corn crop in the north, and of cotton in the south.

Corn showed an October gain of about 6,000,000 bushels to establish a record of 3,350,672,000 bushels, which is about 177,000,000 bushels above the previous record of 1944. Production was 3,018,410,000 bushels last year and 2,608,499,000 bushels for the ten-year (1935-44) average.

With corn turning out so favorably, the way is open, some department officials said, for granting distillers a larger supply of the grain for whiskey production. These officials said distillers may be allotted 50,000,000 bushels during the current marketing year compared with 25,000,000 during the past year.

Troubled Trieste
Brings On Tangle
In United Nations

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The foreign ministers council tangled tonight on the future of troubled Trieste after the United States lodged its firm opposition to a Soviet proposal for modification of an Italian peace pact clause on control of the ancient Adriatic port.

The council reached no final settlement on the issue, but pushed aside—temporarily at least—an apparent willingness on the part of Italy to undertake independent negotiations with Yugoslavia.

Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia attempted unsuccessfully to return the problem of Trieste to the council's deputies for a further study on the basis of two points which would, in effect:

1. Cut down the authority of the appointive governor of Trieste. Russia has maintained consistently that the powers of the elective assembly in the international zone should be strengthened instead.
2. Set a deadline (Molotov did not specify for how long) for removal of all foreign troops from the Trieste territory.

Detroit, Nov. 12 (AP)—Michigan's district Office of Price Administration will go out with the old year December 31.

Announcing the closing today, Director Lawrence L. Farrell said all but 196 of the present 850 district OPA employees will be released December 22. Those remaining will be transferred to the separate district OPA rent office, where sugar and rice controls also will be administered.

Vast Russian Army
Is On War Footing,
Churchill Asserts

BY JUDSON O'QUINN

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—Winston Churchill renewed tonight his assertion that a vast Russian army was being maintained on a virtual war footing in Europe and promised an opening session of parliament would support the Labor government's revolutionary proposal to continue compulsory military training in peacetime.

Churchill spoke in the House of Commons in reply to Laborite H. C. Usborne's motion for the acceptance of King George VI's opening speech from the throne.

The king, sitting on a golden throne in the heavily guarded House of Lords, earlier had outlined the Labor government's socialistic legislative program, including not only the plans for continuing conscription but also for nationalizing additional industries.

In his 13-minute address delivered in a setting of medieval splendor, the king said plans were underway to bring self-government to the peoples of his empire.

He called for a German peace treaty which would "foster democracy" in that country and said he hoped occupation troops could be withdrawn from Austria soon.

Soldiers with fixed bayonets guarded the building while the king spoke. As a result of recent threats of violence, attributed to Jewish underground organizations, 5,000 policemen and detectives also stood by.

The monarch's address—written, as customary, by the party in power—listed these main points of contemplated legislation:

1. Conscription for the armed services.
2. Nationalization of inland transport and electric supply.

HOUSING CHIEF
AND RFC CLASHTruman Fails To Affect Accord In $90,000,000
Loan Request

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—President Truman's effort to conciliate the clash between housing boss Wilson Wyatt and the RFC, over nearly $90,000,000 in loans to assembly-line home producers, wound up tonight in "complete disagreement."

Wyatt and George E. Allen, a director of reconstruction finance corporation, stood shoulder to shoulder and so told reporters immediately after leaving a 45-minute conference in the President's office.

"There is complete disagreement between Wyatt and Allen, and nothing has been settled," Allen said.

Reporters at first thought he was being facetious, but Wyatt promptly put in:

"That is a perfectly accurate statement."

The two said they would meet tomorrow to try again for a settlement. Reconversion director John R. Steelman accompanied them to the White House today but the next session is expected to be strictly an Allen-vs.-Wyatt affair.

Confronted with rising building costs—because of Saturday's decontrol of building materials prices and construction wages—Wyatt served notice he would continue to press for loans to finance firms pioneering in the low-cost, assembly-line housing field.

"There is an emergency and we need emergency loans," he said after returning to his office.

Cheering Leftists
Celebrate Victory
In Rome Elections

Rome, Nov. 12 (AP)—Torches flamed tonight on the tower of Campidoglio, Rome's city hall, as 5,000 cheering Leftists celebrated their victory in Sunday's municipal elections, a victory which was reported already to have created a critical situation for Prime Minister Alcide De Gasperi's cabinet.

The crowd which marched to the Campidoglio singing "Red Flag" heard speakers proclaim that "after 20 years of Fascism Rome once more is restored to the people."

De Gasperi's cabinet is made up of Christian Democrats, his own party, Socialists, Communists and Republicans. It was reported that the Leftists, emboldened by their municipal victories, might now refuse to cooperate with him.

3. Control of securities exchanges.

4. Establishment of a ministry of defense to coordinate activity of the three branches of the armed service.

5. Approval of the 1944 convention on international civil aviation.

The king said the Labor government would strive, in the international field, for:

1. Early peace treaties for Germany and Austria.
2. Support of the work of an international conference on trade and employment.
3. Preparation for elections in Burma.

4. Assistance to peoples of the British empire in their campaigns for self government.

WILY NARCOTICS
DEALER NABBEDVice Boss Arrested In Phoenix, Ariz., After Year-Long Hunt

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 12 (AP)—A year-long, 1,500-mile investigation reached to the curb of a side street Phoenix restaurant to grab the wily little "Professor"—Robert Ludley Linville, 45—described by U. S. Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger as the top man of international narcotics traffic.

Linville was held under $75,000 bond in the county jail today on charges of selling opium to a federal undercover agent. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

Until a squad of federal agents seized him Saturday night as he stepped from a 1946 model automobile, Linville was known locally only as the reputed czar of prostitution in the city. In these circles he was referred to as "The Professor."

In recent weeks he was able to shake off local charges of receiving the earnings of a prostitute and illegal cohabitation as easily as he had been dodging more serious charges for 30 years.

Anslinger said in Washington this time Linville is trapped in the web of narcotics operations which stretched through Mexico, the United States and Canada.

Linville was arrested on a charge of selling a small quantity of opium to an agent here, but he is being held for extradition to Los Angeles on a federal indictment returned secretly two months ago. The indictment charges sale of $5,000 worth of Mexican opium.

Anslinger's statement on Linville's arrest tied his purported narcotics and prostitution operations together. The narcotics bureau, Anslinger said, "has affidavits to the effect that Linville used his dashing personality and his pose as a wealthy rancher to interest impressionable young women, studiedly caused them to become addicted to narcotics, and introduced them into immoral pursuits."

HANGING AWAITS
JILTED VETERANMaryland Man Convicted
Of Killing Childhood
Sweetheart, 20

BY GEORGE A. BOWEN, JR.

Cambridge, Md., Nov. 12 (AP)—Ross J. Abbott, 24, staked his war record against a death sentence today, but lost, and was sentenced to be hanged for killing his 20-year-old childhood sweetheart because she broke off their marriage plans and announced her engagement to another.

Abbott pleaded guilty to shooting Pansy Lucille Twigg while she was on a swimming party with two girl friends near her home on Deal Island, a remote area which juts into Chesapeake Bay from Maryland's eastern shore.

"It is not possible for this court to conceive a more brutal or more unjustified murder than you have committed on this little girl," said Chief Judge Laird Henry, Jr., in reading the decision of a three-judge court.

The part-time crab fisher and handyman, Purple Heart veteran of action in North Africa, Sicily and Italy, held his breath and trembled during the reading of the verdict. He uttered no sound when it came, and the 200 spectators jammed into the little Dorchester county courtroom remained hushed.

Abbott himself appeared as the final defense witness and said he and Pansy would have married if her family hadn't interfered.

Midland, Nov. 12 (AP)—Carl B. Robertson, Dow Chemical Co. designing engineer, today took over as the new Midland mayor. A city councilman, he was elected by the five-member council, which chooses the mayor from among its members.

Robertson succeeds Phelps Volsung, who did not seek reelection as city councilman at the Nov. 5 election.

MARTIN URGES
INCOME TAXESCUT IN GOVERNMENT
SPENDING LISTED
AS GOP AIM

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, heir-apparent to the speakership of the House of Representatives, came out flatly today for a 20 percent income tax reduction "straight across the board."

He advocated also (1) Close adherence to the congressional "streamlining" plan approved last summer, (2) an indefinite reduction in government spending, and (3) legislation putting the speaker of the House in line for the presidency in the event of vacancies in both presidency and the vice presidency.

And, at his first news conference since Republicans won control of the House in the November 5 election, the 62-year-old bachelor publisher indicated he will follow a "hands-off" course in the brewing fight over the post of Republican House floor leader.

Huddles Start Thursday

He emphasized to approximately 100 correspondents who crowded into the cramped quarters of the Republican floor leader—a post he will vacate if he becomes speaker—that he spoke only his own views.

Broad matters of party policy and a definite legislative program for presentation to Congress when it convenes on January 3, Martin said, will grow out of a series of meetings starting Thursday with assembly of the Republican House steering committee.

The steering committee, which shapes party policy, is made up of about 20 leading House Republicans. Martin said it will break up into subcommittees, enlarged to accommodate members of legislative committees, for the study of various phases of legislative program.

The House group, he disclosed, probably will meet Friday with the Senate's steering committee, and a meeting of all Republican representatives—elect, scheduled for December 2, probably will be postponed to give the study committees more time to work.

Briefly, here's what Martin said on the various subjects about which he was quizzed:

Taxes: "I think we can cut twenty percent off of all income taxes next year, straight across the board." The reduction, he explained, should be retroactive to only to all 1947 income, and a bill effecting it should be enacted promptly and followed by a scientific study of the entire tax structure.

Congressional reorganization: The adopted plan reducing the number of standing House committees from 48 to 19 should be

DISMISSALS HIT
10,000 IN OPAAbout 11,000 More To Get Same News Nov. 30
As Agency Folds Up

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—About 10,000 OPA employees received 30-day dismissal notices today, with an estimated 11,000 more to get the same news about Nov. 30.

The dismissals today resulted from decontrol actions taken prior to last week-end. Those scheduled for the end of the month will result from the sweeping action of last week-end when price controls were lifted from all commodities and services except rent, sugar, syrups and rice.

The notices must go out about Nov. 30 to achieve price administrator Paul A. Porter's goal of a staff reduction to 10,000 or 12,000 by January 1. There were 34,700 on the payroll last month and 63,400 at OPA's peak in 1945.

In a letter to all employees today Porter gave assurance that dismissal notices would not be sent before Nov. 30 except those resulting from decontrols announced before last weekend. Those notified today of dismissal included employees who had been engaged in administering food controls, and 2,613 paid employees of local price control boards, which were closed Nov. 4.

Porter's letter today said "we will proceed at once with an orderly demobilization of a major part of our activities."

United States Hogs
World's Newsprint,
Londoner Declares

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—Sir Walter Layton, chairman of the rationing committee of the Newsprint Supply Co., accused the United States tonight of hogging the world's newsprint and challenged them to share it.

"I tell my American friends," he said, "that if 60 pounds of newsprint per head per year—which is the present rate of consumption in the U. S. A.—is necessary and needed to instill and maintain the democratic way of life, there is only sufficient newsprint in the world for 200,000,000 Democrats."

"The other 2,000,000,000 of the world's population must presumably all be totalitarians."

Layton, speaking at a charity dinner, said there could not be free access to knowledge or understanding of international affairs by all people so long as the United States consumed two-thirds of the world's supply of newsprint.

WIFE CHARGED WITH MURDER—Mrs. Lois Wilson, 24, right, was charged with murdering her 24-year-old husband, Leon, Nov. 4, after son Linden, three, left, told authorities, "Mommy shoot him."

Officials say Wilson was apparently shot with a shotgun as he lay asleep in his farm home, Fairfield, Ill. (NEA Telephoto.)

OLD OPA LIST SHATTERED IN SOME FIELDSSOAP MAKERS CALL FOR INCREASE OF
50 PERCENT

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—One-time OPA price levels were shattered today in more than half a dozen different industrial fields, but a hold-the-price-line sentiment ruled at least temporarily in many areas of American business.

A cross-country check by the Associated Press underscored these among other increases since President Truman suddenly cut the strings on most prices last Saturday night:

A boost of 50 percent by major soap manufacturers; an increase of $2.50 a ton in steel scrap; boosts of $100 for passenger cars by General Motors and Crosley Motors; advances in varying amounts for copper, lead, zinc and tin recovered from scrap; a nine percent increase in farm implements by International Harvester; and marked increases by DuPont for viscose products that apparently will spell out rising rayon prices.

Suits May Go Up

At the same time, Westinghouse and General Motors reported at least moderate increases were in prospect on a piecemeal basis for their electrical appliances. General Electric said there would be no general increases, but some might come on individual items.

Some clothing men indicated prices of men's suits might go up by several percent, but, accomplished increases were not immediately conspicuous in this field.

On the other hand, spokesmen for the real kingdom of industry—steel—were either noncommittal or hopeful that general price increases could be avoided.

U. S. Steel had nothing to say, although it had taken a previous position that across-the-board increases would be frowned upon. Eugene G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, said he hoped to avoid boosts but would not be able to do so if wages were raised. Inland Steel and Acme Steel reported no immediate plans for increases, and E. T. Weir, president of the National Steel Corporation, said there might be temporary increases but that they would be brought back into line within six months, barring labor troubles.

The Aluminum Company of America said it hoped to hold closely to its present price structure, but would have to watch changing cost factors.

Producers Watch Costs

The vast majority of manufacturers made no announcements, throughout industry generally, however, there appeared to be an intense watch on this same factor of changing costs.

The quick increases for such basic ingredients as steel scrap, lead, zinc and copper—in amounts ranging from 10 to around 15 percent—inevitably will increase costs for many producers.

Whether these increases can be absorbed by the manufacturers and retailers, or whether higher

OVER 90 PERISH
IN EARTHQUAKESTowns In Peru Interior
Destroyed; Roads And Rivers Blocked

Lima, Peru, Nov. 12 (AP)—More than 90 persons perished in a series of severe earthquakes which destroyed towns, wrecked roads and dammed up rivers last Sunday in the interior of Peru. Continued earth tremblings were reported.

Communications with many communities were cut off because of toppled telegraph poles, and it was feared the known death toll would mount much higher when complete reports are received.

More than 60 persons died in Sihuas, a town of 11,540 situated 250 miles north of Lima, news report said, and at least 30 more perished at Pomabamba. Direct communication still had not been established with Sihuas, but the information ministry said it understood the town was a heap of ruins.

A telegram from Mollapata authorities said the first quake three lasted 27 seconds and that 52 minor quakes had occurred since Sunday afternoon. It added that many roads were impassable, and that panicked inhabitants had spent Sunday night in open places, to avoid the possibility of falling masonry.

Most of the villages hit by the quake are on slopes of the Andes mountains.

CHEVROLETS PASS 500,000

Detroit, Nov. 12 (AP)—General Motors' Chevrolet Motor Division today boasted the first half-million unit production of any automotive producer since Jan. 1.

General Sales Manager T. H. Keating said the 500,000th Chevrolet rolled off the assembly line Monday. Passenger cars comprised about 57 percent of the total, trucks accounting for the remainder, he said.

LIKES CHILDREN MOTHER HAS 25

Jolly Mexican Woman Runs Out Of Names, Calls Baby Sunday

Lamesa, Tex., Nov. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Bernardino Lopez, 43, a plump, jolly, little Mexican woman who gave birth Sunday to her 25th child said today that she liked children, but merely shrugged her shoulders when asked if she liked having so many.

Dr. A. H. Smith, her attending physician, said he began asking routine questions before the birth, "How many children have you had," he asked, and was amazed when Mrs. Lopez replied, "Twenty-four doctor. This will be the twenty-fifth."

The girl born Sunday weighed 8 pounds and both mother and child were "doing fine," Dr. Smith said. The child was named "Sunday," the doctor said, "because they were running out of names."

When reporters arrived at 8:30 a. m., today, Mrs. Lopez was busily cooking breakfast.

When asked for confirmation of the number of children, a daughter-in-law produced a marriage license showing Mrs. Lopez was married September 29, 1915, when she was 11 years old and her husband 14. She was born in Monterrey, Mexico. The father, three neighbors and two daughters-in-law all confirmed Mrs. Lopez had 25 children, all single births, the first when she was 12.

She said she had 11 children and that all those who died succumbed before they were one year old.

The father, a mustached Mexican of medium size, works at odd jobs at Lamesa.

Big Elk Likes Oats, Crowds Out Horses Of Ontario Farmer

North Bay, Ont., Nov. 12 (AP)—Farmer Robin Buckley is smack up against the squatter problem. He found his horses outside their stable Saturday night and in no mood to enter. In the stable he found a big elk, which liked the oats very much and was in no mood to leave.

Buckley told the department of lands and forests about it. They reminded him of regulations concerning the preservation of elk.

Saginaw Boy Bound Over For Stabbing Brother To Death

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 12 (AP)—Jack O'Reilly, 15, waived examination today on arraignment in justice court on a charge of first degree murder in the fatal stabbing of his brother, Richard, 13.

The youth was bound over to the circuit court for trial and returned to jail without bond.

Simultaneously Saginaw County Clerk Raymond L. Dankers announced he would ask the state hospital commission to appoint three psychiatrists to examine the youth.

Jack, appearing without an attorney, took a close interest in the proceedings and asked several times for explanations of terms.

"If I waive examination, will the psychiatrists examine me?" he asked.

Assured they would, he said: "Then I waive."

Wayne University Starts $1,800,000 Building Program

Detroit, Nov. 12 (AP)—When Gov. Kelly wielded a silver shovel at a Wayne university ground breaking ceremony today, he marked the beginning of a new era for that institution.

It will be the first completely new building at Wayne since the university was founded in 1933.

The new building will house classrooms and will cost $900,000. A $1,800,000 science building is scheduled to follow. These two will exhaust appropriations voted at a special session of the legislature last spring, but Gov. Kelly said he was recommending that the next legislative session vote more funds for a Wayne building program.

Mercy Trips Save Marooned Colorado Humans And Stock

Denver, Nov. 12 (AP)—The greatest series of mercy missions in Colorado's history winged over eastern and southern parts of the state today in a struggle against mountainous snowdrifts to save both human beings and livestock.

Success climaxed many of the trips, but darkness found the provision-carrying work still unfinished and the mercy tasks will continue tomorrow.

Sub-freezing temperatures prevented the thawing of the drifts—some of them 10 to 18 feet high—piled up by snowstorms which have whipped the area since early last week. Clear skies aided the rescue efforts.

Fifteen deaths have been attributed directly or indirectly to the storm.

Thousands of head of sheep and cattle—huddled together in the snow throughout the snowbound regions, facing death from exposure and starvation.

Airplanes, some of them C-47 twin-engine Army cargo ships, others light, ski-equipped ships, entered the race to help persons marooned in isolated ranches for 10 days. Also in the rescue efforts were Army weasels, weapons carriers, huge bulldozers, tractors and trucks.

Planes flying out of Peterson Field at Colorado Springs kept a lookout for crosses fashioned in the snow near ranch houses. Radio appeals to the ranchers had visible from the air if they crossed a foot, two if they needed medical aid.

Five of the C-47s were pressed into service to drop bales of hay to 10,000 head of cattle which Young Moseley, a Lincoln county rancher, reported were standing stiff-legged in three feet of snow.

Paris-Strasbourg Train Wreck Kills 30, Mostly Children

Metz, France, Nov. 12 (AP)—More than 30 persons, mostly schoolchildren, were crushed, burned and scalded to death at dawn today when a fast Paris-Strasbourg freight train plowed into the rear of a passenger local standing in the station of Revigny-Sur-Ornain, 138 miles east of Paris.

The French National Railways announced that 31 were killed and 30 injured, but unofficial information from Revigny said the casualties were 35 killed and 80 injured. The crash occurred during a dense fog.

The powerful new American-made locomotive pulling the freight blew up after telescoping the rear six cars of the passenger train, spewing live steam on the injured and dying and on persons standing on the platform.

No Special Session To Finance Bonus, Governor Decides

Lansing, Nov. 12 (AP)—Governor Kelly declined to call a special session of the legislature to consider means of financing the veterans' bonus, approved by the voters at the November 5 election.

Kelly said he had been urged to call the session on the grounds that immediate action was necessary to save the state large sums of money by taking advantage of current low interest rates. He said he had not received proof, however, that a delay of several months would make any difference financially.

He said he believed that the financing of the bonus should be considered at the same time as the question of meeting the sales tax diversion amendment also approved at the general election.

CAR PRICES UP $400 SINCE '41

General Motors Line Shows Wide Range In Five Years

Detroit, Nov. 12 (AP)—Prices of the 1941 and 1946 General Motors automobiles, as made available by the corporation today, show extreme differences.

Trade experts pointed out, however, that direct comparisons were impossible in GM's lines as well as in those of other manufacturers.

Some of the factors making today's cars different from those of five years ago include model changes, alternations of classification of the same model, changes in horse power and changes in the extent of "extras" (accessories)—to mention only a few.

As one authority put it, "You can't pick up a 1941 car and match it against anything today."

But for rough comparison here are GM's lowest factory list 4-door sedan prices today, placed against 1941:

Chevrolet	$1,105	1941
Pontiac	$1,313	1941
Oldsmobile	$1,351	1941
Buick	$1,446	1941
Cadillac	$2,035	1941

(These are "factory list" prices. The dealer's price to the buyer may be $100 to $250 and more greater, depending on "extras," state or federal taxes or both, transportation charges, and other charges.)

Chinese Call Peace Meeting In Nanking But Nobody Comes

BY HAROLD K. MILKS

Nanking, Nov. 12 (AP)—A vacant auditorium with its masses of wilting flowers mutely testified today to the failure of China's political leaders to settle their differences and sit in a national assembly to frame a coalition government.

For many months, China had looked forward to this day—another anniversary of the birth of the republic's founder, Sun Yat Sen, and the day on which representatives of all parties were to convene to draw up the charter for a new and greater China.

Another in the long string of postponements due to war and civil strife, however, again had delayed the meeting. It now is scheduled for Friday, with almost general agreement that there will be a further deferment.

Basically, the Communists, the Kuomintang (government party), the Democratic League and minority parties were reiterating their demands. They had not changed their views.

costs will have to be paid by the eventual consumer, is something that will be worked out in days to come on an individual basis.

In some cases, however, the transfer of higher costs to the consumer will be almost immediate.

DuPont made no formal announcement of its increase in viscose products, but trade sources estimated informally it might be translated into a boost in rayon yarn that might run around 12 percent. This in turn could mean an increase of 15 to 25 percent in some finished rayon fabrics.

The transfer to the consumer will be instantaneous, of course, on soap. A Procter and Gamble spokesman said its wholesale price on small cakes of toilet soap would go up by three cents, with a corresponding retail increase. The wholesale price of laundry soaps would rise by two cents to 14 cents for a 21-ounce package, he said, which would mean a retail increase of from 23 to 35 cents.

Colgate - Palmolive - Peet Corp. announced a rise of about 50 percent in soap prices, with some variations in brands.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press wholesale commodity index, based on 35 staples, hit a new all-time record high. With 1926 prices taken as 100, the index rose from 156.14 on Saturday to 158.81 today. All commodity markets were closed yesterday because of Armistice Day.

This increase was small, however, when compared to the sharp eight-point jump that followed the temporary lapse of OPA last July, and the 10-point increase last month when meat and dairy products were declared free from control.

JOHN J. PELLEY DIES SUDDENLY

President Of Association Of American Railroads Stricken In Hospital

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—John J. Pelley, 68, president of the Association of American Railroads since it was formed 12 years ago, died today at a hospital where he had undergone an operation two weeks ago.

Death was unexpected and his office said the cause had not been determined. He had gone to the hospital for a physical checkup.

For 47 years a railroad man, Pelley, began as a station clerk at his birthplace, Anna, Ill. He once headed the Central of Georgia Railroad and its associated firm, Ocean Steamship Company, at Savannah, Ga. He became president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford in 1929, giving up this place in 1934 to head the association.

A six-footer who did not look his age, Pelley led an active life and was a good golfer. He carried a load during the wartime transportation crisis and was cited by the government. He was a director of the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Alma T. Pelley, and a daughter, Mrs. W. D. Van Schalkwyk, Washington. The Pelleys lived here and also maintained a home at New Haven, Conn.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at St. Thomas Apostolic church in Washington. The place of burial was not yet announced.

Born May 1, 1878, Pelley graduated from high school at Anna and took some special work at the University of Illinois. He started railroad work in 1899 with the Illinois Central and rose through the ranks to general manager in 1923-24 and then vice-president in charge of operations. In 1926, he was elected president of the Georgia Central.

War Powers Must Go

Republican House leadership: "I'm not for anyone at this time particularly. It's up to the membership to make that decision."

Announced candidates include Reps. Charles Halleck of Indiana and Thomas Jenkins of Ohio, with Clarence Brown of Ohio expected to announce soon.

Government savings: "We should save all we can," Martin said he had no definite figure in mind.

Presidential succession: "We'd be inclined to favor it." He referred to legislation requested last summer by President Truman to put the speaker of the House next in line after the vice-president. The House passed that bill when Sam Rayburn, Texas Democrat, was speaker. The Senate sidetracked it. At present the line of succession, after the vice president, starts with the Secretary of State and goes through the cabinet.

Continuation of weekly conferences between the president and congressional leaders: "I think it would be helpful" but it's up to the president. "I may be able to find my way up there (the White House) if he invites me."

Emergency war powers: "We should get rid of all unnecessary war powers at the earliest possible moment."

Brief But Violent Bust Predicted In 1947 For Business

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—The new Council of American Business tonight predicted a "brief but violent bust" sometime in 1947 that will destroy thousands of businesses.

"There is no reason to be certain that the cataclysmic crash of 1920, which made tens of thousands of businesses bankrupt in a few months, will not be repeated," said the council in a survey entitled "Operation boom-bust."

After the setback business will quickly achieve prosperity levels—an upturn that "will probably set the pattern for business for several years," it was predicted.

Businessmen were advised not to build up inventories and were urged to make short run commitments.

The survey noted three forces "which point to a recession in 1947"—inventory accumulation, increasing consumer resistance to price increases, and tapering off of construction as costs soar.

The council, headed by George C. Hatch, described itself as composed of independent businessmen who disagree with "monopolistic big business lobbies."

Free Economy Again

EXCEPT for controls still remaining in effect on rents, sugar and rice, the United States has returned to a free economy. The OPA is dead and all that is left to be done is to conduct the funeral.

The results of the recent election left no room for doubt that the American people were weary of federal controls and that they sought a speedy return to the traditional American way of life, founded on free enterprise.

The real problem facing the American people today and the only way in which our newly-won free economy can work to the best interests of all the people is to increase production in all lines of goods. That means, of course, that industry and labor together will have to work in harmony.

For industry's part, it means that unit profits must be kept to the lowest possible point and that the goal of volume production—and eventual lower costs with lower prices—must be the foundation of our business economy, as it was for so many years prior to federal control.

For labor's part, it means that demands for further wage increases must be predicated only upon increased production. A new wave of wage demands, followed by the inevitable orgy of strikes, would be the worst thing that could happen to the nation at this time. Even by winning their wage demands, the workers could not possibly profit because the result would be further price increases. We went through that cycle within the past year.

The danger of inflation is still with us. It still represents the most terrifying problem in the postwar reconstruction period. By adopting a national cooperative program, each faction—industry, labor, consumers—subduing selfish interests to the public good, we can lick the inflation threat easily and launch a program of American prosperity that will guarantee to all of us the fruits of a better world.

Puncturing Our Ego

IN THIS modern age of ingenious machines and scientific knowledge, we are prone to push out our chests a bit and adopt a philosophy of self-satisfaction with our marvelous achievements. On these occasions, a little deflation of our ego serves us in good stead.

Not within the past decade, however, has the self-pride of American inventiveness been punctured so thoroughly as it was Monday of this week in Tokyo, when a Japanese mathematician, using a crude abacus, licked the pants off an American GI ex-bookkeeper, equipped with a modern mathematical marvel. The abacus, invented over 300 years ago, outscored the machine calculator in every phase of mathematics except multiplication.

If we can get any satisfaction from this test of skill, it must come from the acknowledged fact that the machine calculator is an extremely valuable tool for the rank and file of humanity, while the abacus is still very much a crude and inefficient instrument in the hands of anyone except the occasional brilliant mathematician.

At any rate, you'll have to admit that the test in Tokyo carved a deep wound in our modern ego. It probably is a good thing, too.

GOP Cooperation

IN HIS first news conference since the election of last week, President Truman Monday made a conciliatory bid for Republican cooperation in the next two years of his term of office.

In turn, the Republican leadership has promised cooperation with the president on any "cooperative American program."

If by "cooperative American program" support of left wing, half baked ideas that have been the crux of so much of the new deal philosophy, or if he was appealing for continuance of the huge army of bureaucrats that have taken over the government and skyrocketed public expenditures, he will find neither sympathy nor cooperation from the Republican congress of 1947-48.

If, on the other hand, the president is prepared to accept the mandate of the American people as an expression of their demands for a return to the traditional American way of life, in which the average citizen can preserve his individual rights and liberties, then he will find a full degree of cooperation from the new congress.

As for the bi-partisan foreign policy of the American government, there is small doubt that it will be strengthened in the ensuing two years. Senator Vandenberg, the Republican advisor to Secretary Byrnes, was returned to the senate by his Michigan constituents with a tremendous vote of confidence, expressing full support of his participation in an American foreign policy based upon an united front. The influence of Senator Vandenberg in the developing of our foreign policy undoubtedly will be felt more heavily in the ensuing two years than it has been in the past.

Superforts in Russia?

FRENCH-INSPIRED sources report that the Russians are building copies of the American Superfortress bomber in factories beyond the Ural mountains.

Conceding the possibility that this report may be true, it is, nevertheless, somewhat doubtful in view of several factors. First and foremost, of course, is the fact that the Superfortress, mighty as it proved to be in the closing days of the war, is already obsolete and has been abandoned as a fighting weapon by the American government. It is hardly conceivable that Russia would show too much interest in a bomber of this kind that has already been outmoded.

Another factor for suspicion stems from the source of the information. France today is glutted with Communists, as evidenced by the recent French election in which the Communists emerged as the dominant party. The Reds would hardly be averse to lulling the rest of the world into a state of false security by conveying the impression that Russia today is arming with weapons that have served their best days.

SIGLER'S BIG PROBLEM
(Detroit News)

The adoption of all three State Constitutional amendments, including the veterans' bonus and division of sales tax revenues with municipalities, presents the Governor-elect, Mr. Sigler, with an interesting fiscal puzzle.

Sales tax receipts are running at the annual rate of $156,000,000 a year and, for the time, anyway, are still rising. But Amendment No. 2 consigns a one-third divvy of this straightaway to local governments, including school districts additionally assured of continuance of their present 40 per cent share of gross State income.

It will take an estimated $17,000,000 annually to finance and administer the veterans' bonus. But that estimate is on the basis of a bonus cost not exceeding the authorized $270,000,000 bond issue. If the cost is higher, as some hold probable, the Legislature is directed to meet the excess out of general revenues.

There are other contingencies. A possible decline in sales volume after the holiday season may trim sales tax receipts. A business slump, a conceivable return of consumer resistance to high prices, might bring a more severe revenue shrinkage.

Opponents of the bonus and sales tax amendments predicted, if both won, a need for new taxation to meet the State's own expenses. That may have exaggerated the case. On the other hand, Mr. Sigler no doubt will find it wise to sit in with Gov. Kelly on preparation of the budget, which the Governor-elect will have to submit to the new Legislature.

BASEBALL IN THE VALLEY
(Green Bay Press-Gazette)

The teams of the Wisconsin State Baseball league played to a total attendance of 487,283 during the 1946 season and thus shared in the general baseball prosperity that has been noted in nearly all leagues.

Fond du Lac led with 84,601 paid admissions, Oshkosh was second with 83,100, Green Bay third with 75,657, and Appleton fourth with 65,535. The attendance record is excellent for the first year in the reorganized league as much of the forepart of the season was devoted to building up interest after a lapse of play during the war years.

The Wisconsin league is geographically compact with well matched teams and a fine spirit of community rivalry. Given those essentials only one other thing is necessary to keep the league prosperous. There is not sufficient seating capacity. People will not accept standing room or uncomfortable temporary seats for an occasional game under a tense stretch of competition, but for steady dependable business something better is required.

It is apparent that the club managers can be depended upon to provide the teams, and perhaps building regulations may permit construction of additional seating for next season.

Washington—This is the moment of pause for shifting the scenery. The moving van is chugging up Capitol Hill. The Democrats are starting back home.

The Truman administration waited far too long before cleaning out the surplus scenery of price control. Ever since mid-summer, the price control system has been as dated and as useless as last year's Christmas tree.

Controls have been worthless since the President lost his fight with Congress. Senator Robert A. Taft was the master strategist behind that Republican victory. The price control bill the President finally signed was nearly as much of a sham as the one he vetoed.

The mess over price control was, I believe, primarily responsible for the extent of the Republican sweep. The trend was already there. The confusion, plus spiraling prices, fed the resentment. The Republicans cleverly shouldered the blame onto the party in the White House. Taft can claim a great deal of credit for what has happened.

—TRUMAN TOO TIMID—

Since the defeat of last summer, the President and his chief assistants have been fussing over what to do about controls. Mr. Truman's stubborn attitude on meat in the middle of the campaign, and then his sudden about-face, certainly did not help Democratic chances.

At the same time that meat was de-controlled, all controls should have been ditched. That advice came from some quarters. The President, it was argued, should take a bold step, knocking out all controls and putting the blame squarely on the Republican opposition.

More timid counsel prevailed. The President was won over by those who said that the political consequences of new price rises immediately before the election would be disastrous. So once again it was a case of too little and too late.

The President could not have delayed much longer the step he took over the weekend. The CIO convenes in Atlantic City next week. If wage controls had still been in effect, with prices soaring, a blast would certainly have been forthcoming from the worried leaders of CIO.

In the debate that went on in the White House during the last few days, OPA Administrator Paul Porter took a new stand. He joined those who argued that nothing less than a clean sweep would be of any avail. In earlier arguments, before the election, he had been for keeping controls.

Porter, an able citizen beneath the genial surface he presents to the world, has taken a fearful beating in recent months. When the President appealed to his sense of loyalty, he left his position as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission to take the thankless job of OPA chief. Trying to keep some semblance of price control, Porter had been the target for brickbats from every side.

—BURDEN FOR WYATT—

It had been assumed that he would want to go back to his FCC position. But in all probability Porter will tell the President that he intends to take up the practice of law as a private citizen.

On Porter's fellow Kentuckian, Wilson W. Wyatt, falls the heaviest burden as a result of the President's action. Last-minute discussion centered on whether to try to keep ceilings on building materials. This was abandoned when Porter pointed out that it would be necessary to keep approximately 75 per cent of industry under controls.

Now Wyatt must try to hold a last-ditch line in order to get houses built for veterans. His job as housing expediter has been a tough one. But it will be even tougher from here on out.

The pressure to take away even these last vestiges of control will continue. The National Association of Home Builders is working to get rid of the system of priorities intended to channel materials into veterans' houses, saying that the priorities system is ineffectual.

They will have a powerful claim on the new Republican congress. From such highly vocal groups came support for the Republican campaign to abolish all government restrictions. The odds would seem to favor removal of even these minimum controls after Congress comes back.

The President is said to be preparing to wipe out the remnants of other wartime acts. He will deprive the Republicans of the pleasure of pushing down a structure already far gone in decay. And thereby he will clear the way for whatever positive action the GOP may have to put forward.

Eleven carloads of Christmas toys have been shipped to the U. S. by Germany. Junior will have almost as much fun with them as his dad.

Republicans say they can cut personal income taxes by 20 per cent. Now if they'll just tell us where we can dig up that 80 per cent, we'll be all set.

This is the season when the one thing certain to make football uncertain is the set-up that proves an upset.

be a supreme executive magistrate who shall be styled the Governor of the State of New Hampshire, and whose title shall be 'His Excellency.'

Thus, the governor's of Massachusetts and New Hampshire are constitutionally given the title "His Excellency." Governors of other states are sometimes given the title, but through courtesy, and not officially. During the First U. S. Congress, some members advocated the title "His Excellency" or "His Highness" for the president. After stormy debate, the official title chosen was "The President."

The Pied Piper

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

CIRCUMSTANCES—Attention has been directed to a recent item in this column concerning the work done by election boards of Delta county in the Nov. 5 election.

In the debate that went on in the White House during the last few days, OPA Administrator Paul Porter took a new stand. He joined those who argued that nothing less than a clean sweep would be of any avail. In earlier arguments, before the election, he had been for keeping controls.

Porter, an able citizen beneath the genial surface he presents to the world, has taken a fearful beating in recent months. When the President appealed to his sense of loyalty, he left his position as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission to take the thankless job of OPA chief. Trying to keep some semblance of price control, Porter had been the target for brickbats from every side.

Perhaps most voters do not realize that precinct election boards start work at 7 a. m. when the polls open, continue through the day until 8 p. m. when the polls close. Perhaps already weary from the long day, they then begin tabulating the vote—a most important job. The tabulating sometimes continues until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, which is a long work day for any except the most vigorous constitution.

Under such circumstances errors are more likely to occur, just as the weary driver is more inclined to mistakes in judgment.

ALL CONVENIENCES—Ollie Thatcher is responsible for this story. When one of the county's rural residents was asked by Ollie if his house in the country was modern, the farmer replied: "Not yet, but for the time being we have five rooms and a bath."

STARTING EARLY—We see by the papers that down at St. Ignace a passenger on one of the state ferries was wounded in the ankle by a bullet fired from a rifle in the Upper Peninsula. The wound was not serious, but it's getting to be quite a state of affairs when hunters can't wait until a man gets ashore before opening the deer season casualty lists.

HOW IT HAPPENED—Speaking of deer hunters, Dick Gearhart, Marquette, representing the educational division of the Michigan conservation department in the Upper Peninsula, told Escanaba Rotarians a story illustrating the need for immediate reports to the officers when a lost hunter is found.

A few years ago north of Newberry a man's hunting companion reported that his pal was missing. Immediately all available manpower of the conservation department was thrown into the search. The party went by and the search continued unsuccessful. The searching party (now concerned with finding the corpse of the lost hunter) was augmented by boys from the Newberry high school. Incidentally, this is a risky business, because it has happened that searchers have become lost also.

The days dragged by—eleven days altogether. Then on the 11th day there was received a message from Chicago that officers had located the missing man there. Without telling his hunting companion, he had run off with a woman friend and they were living together in Chicago—while the conservation officers organized and conducted one of the most

GOING OUT—Manufacturers of lighting equipment report that overhead neon lights are not so much in demand as they once were—because the harsh light makes experts in faces look haggard. One expert in home lighting predicted darkly that soon all of the neon lighting in homes and show rooms would be taken out, to be replaced by the glow of electric bulbs.

Come to think of it, they say that candle glow is more flattering to the human phylogeny than any other light. We respectfully suggest, therefore, that lighting experts who are in the mood for flattery turn away from all this modernism and start selling candles on street corners. This will leave many women in semi-darkness. There is only one more step to take, and even Lena the Hyena might not be so terrifying in darkness. These matters, however, are best left to experts who first spoke out against neon in the home.

TRAINING SESSION—Miss Victoria "Vicky" Mrozowski returned the other day from St. Louis where she had taken a Red Cross executive secretary training course, since that is her position with the Delta County Chapter.

"For the first few days I was lonesome," she said. "Most of all because I would meet no one on the street I knew, or who would say hello. I'm glad to be home again."

Although the three-week training course was a busy time, she admitted that she did have the opportunity to see a show—and to

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington — With Republican leaders gathering in the Capital to begin organizing their own G.O.P.-ruled Congress for the first time in 16 years, here is a Merry-Go-Round view of what the country can expect during the next two years:

Foreign Policy—On the surface there will be no outward change. Later, however, important changes will become apparent. The British already are worried over our swing to the right.

Budget — The three largest expenditures of government are for army-navy, veterans and service on the national debt. These can't be pruned—unless the Republicans want to cut down the army and navy, which they are not likely to do. Easiest pruning job, therefore, is on foreign loans and relief. UNRRA will be the first to go. A $200,000,000 loan to Italy, planned by Truman, will be ditched next. Other loans to European and Latin American countries will be axed.

This is where one change in foreign policy comes in. The Italian loan was planned in order to help struggling Italian democracy and prevent Italy's swing to Russian Communism. Midwest Republicans, many of them still privately isolationist, will veto this.

However, the end of several wartime expenditures such as price subsidies and service separation payment should permit balancing the budget.

Taxes—Despite current talk of tax relief for small wage-earners, there will be only minor tax cuts. One of two things will happen. Either expenditures will be such as to forbid major tax reduction. Or a cut will be made in the lower brackets, after which G. O. P. congressmen, pressured by higher-bracket groups, won't be able to resist the temptation to get aboard the gravy train. If they add tax reduction for the higher brackets, it means that Truman will veto the bill.

Tariffs—Midwest Republicans would like to go back to the old Hoover high tariffs. Some of the eastern G. O. Pers from manufacturing regions will go along with them. If they get going in earnest, however, there will be a stalemate. Truman will veto.

Labor—One Republican faction favors immediate and outright repeal of the entire Wagner Act. However, they know this would bring a veto and that the veto probably would be sustained. Another G. O. P. group wants to avoid antagonizing labor. Certain AFL leaders, especially John L. Lewis and Carpenters' Boss Bill Hutchinson, helped them win the election, and they want to keep labor happy for 1948. Therefore, the following compromise is probable:

1. The Case bill will be passed, once again, and this time will become law. Even if Truman vetoes, which is doubtful. Southern Democrats and the strong G. O. P. majority will be able to over-ride the White House.

2. Senator Ball's bill, putting labor unions under the anti-trust laws, also will be adopted.

Immigration—Republicans are traditionally hostile to immigration and minority groups, and the House Immigration committee now is inherited by Rep. Noah Mason of Illinois, well-known witch-hunter who takes his cues from the Chicago Tribune. Displaced persons in Europe will get little comfort from Mason. A revived and stronger "Dies Committee" can be expected—probably in both houses of congress.

Economic Outlook—Prices generally will rise during the next six months, though not so rapidly, and with some commodities such as food and textiles dropping in the winter. Food prices should slump after the Argentine and Australian crops are harvested in February. Clothing and furniture prices should come down soon, certainly after Christmas. Autos will remain scarce for some time.

Rent control will be dumped within about six months, though the Republicans will be too smart to repeal it outright. They will pass the buck back to the individual states, which will mean the virtual end of rent controls, since state legislatures are notoriously susceptible to real-estate lobbies.

That, in brief, is the future G.O.P. congressional picture.

—SUGAR DADDY?—

Here is something the investigation-bent Republicans might look into:

For nearly two months, Robert Shields, chief of the agriculture department's production and marketing administration, has been hanging on to his job after announcing that he was resigning to become general counsel of the United States Beet Sugar association.

Mr. Shields' new job pays $40,000 a year, about four times his government salary; but though he announced September 23 that he was quitting the government, he has not done so.

Meanwhile the government finally has given a price increase to the beet-sugar growers. While this increase was due anyway, a lot of people are wondering whether Mr. Shields stayed on for so long at the agriculture department to make sure the price hike came through satisfactorily for his future employers.

Shields stayed on despite a vigorous request from field representatives of production and marketing that he get out of the agriculture department immediately.

With cold storage, maybe it won't be too late at Thanksgiving time to have your last year's turkey.

Winking, says a professor, enables you to see things more distinctly. Your error, for instance, if the pretty gal swings on you.

It's almost time for auto drivers to hope the radiator won't freeze—until it finally does.

COUNTY CHEST RULES DRAWN

Constitution Discussed At Committee Meeting Monday

Final details of establishing the constitution and by-laws for the Delta County community chest were made at a meeting held Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Ed. Edick, chairman of the constitution committee, presented the newly prepared document for correction by the committee and as soon as a few minor changes are made the basis for the community chest and the rules governing the organization will be completed in final form.

Some discussion centered around the possibility of conducting the drive within a short time and it is possible that the solicitation of funds for the agencies participating in the chest will be made before the end of the year.

Attending the meeting last night were Joe Ivens, temporary chairman, and the following members of the temporary committee: Mrs. John Fawcett, Carl Nelson, Henry Boyle, Ed Edick, and George D. Lindenthal. Members of the committee unable to be present were: Mrs. Walter Dickson and John Voght, Gladstone representative.

The work of the temporary committee will be finished as soon as the permanent community chest organization is perfected, it was stated.

Deer Hunters Ready For Season Opening Friday

In Delta county and other hunting areas all over Northern Michigan deer hunters are flooding in by car, with trailers piled high with provisions and equipment to prepare their camps for the opening of the season Friday, Nov. 15.

During the 15-day season it is expected that a total of 300,000 hunters will take to the woods in search of buck deer with antlers extending not less than three inches above the skull. That's the legal minimum, and bigger bucks will be welcomed.

To the hundreds of Michigan men who will go deer hunting this year for the first time, the conservation department has a bit of personal advice: take a map and compass along—there is nothing "sissy" about knowing where you are.

After arrival in camp the hunter is advised to observe the lay of the land—creeks, rivers, roads, railroads, phone and power lines, or other prominent landmarks. Details may be forgotten in the excitement of the hunt, but the general pattern will be remembered.

The only legal limitation on deer rifles in Michigan is the provision that automatic, semi-automatic and auto-loading guns may not contain more than six shells at one time in barrel and magazine combined, the conservation department is advising inquirers who are preparing for the big event November 15-30.

Missouri prohibits use of light rifles, like most 22's, for deer hunting, and Minnesota restricts hunting in some sections to shotguns with single slug, but Michigan's only limitation is on shell capacity. Even this limitation does not apply to .22 caliber rim fire guns, or to lever action, pump or other manually operated shotguns and rifles.

Military rifles are permissible if adapted to meet the six-shell limit, but experienced hunters hold the army carbine has not enough power and the Garand is a bit heavy to carry around. Persons wishing to hunt with foreign arms are advised in every case to check with experienced gunsmiths, for safety's sake, to make sure they are using properly sized and appropriate ammunition.

Conservation officers on routine patrol in the deer country keep close track, among other things, of deer seen per hour, and their 1946 observations confirm other reports of the abundance of deer in the north this season.

In six northern peninsula counties—Gogebic, Houghton, Baraga, Iron, Marquette and Menominee—conservation officers have seen more deer this season than last, which was a good season in its own right.

In the north half of the southern peninsula, in 19 of the 36 counties open to hunting, the officers saw more deer than they did a year ago.

"WATERLESS CISTERNS"
Hot and waterless areas use "waterless cisterns" to collect water. Condensed vapor produced by the difference between night and day temperatures collects on slates within the above-ground cistern.

Bradley May Head House Fisheries, Marine Committee

Washington, D. C., (WNS)—Representative Fred Bradley of Michigan may be named as chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries or of the Committee on Mines and Mining in the 80th Congress, it was predicted today.

Representative Bradley is not the ranking minority member on either of these committees at present, but he is second on both committees which puts him in a strategic position for advancement.

Ranking member on the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries now is Representative Richard J. Welch of California. Representative Welch, however, is ranking minority member of the House Labor Committee. He is also ranking minority member of the House Committee on Insular Affairs.

If Representative Welch should move into the chairmanship of the House Labor Committee, or of the House Committee on Insular Affairs, Representative Bradley would be in the ranking position on the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and the way would be open for his appointment as chairman of this important committee.

Representative Bradley is second on the House Committee on Mines and Mining. Ranking minority member of this committee is now Representative John M. Robison of Kentucky. He is also ranking minority member on the House Revision of Laws Committee. It is regarded as probable that Mr. Robison would be more interested in the chairmanship of the Committee on Mines and Mining, so there is little expectation that Representative Bradley will be considered for this chairmanship.

Attacker Molests Young Woman Here

Mrs. Majorie McDaniel, 18, of 1701 Lake Shore Drive, yesterday reported to Escanaba police that she had escaped a young man who had accosted and attempted to hold her Monday night about 9:40 o'clock, and then shouted a threat when she ran away.

"I'll get you tomorrow night," police said the young woman told them the man had shouted.

Mrs. McDaniel, who is employed at the Delft theater, told police that she had left the theater and was walking on 13th street at First avenue north when a man suddenly grabbed her. She struggled and escaped his grasp.

Police said Mrs. McDaniel described the man as young and tall, and without a hat or cap.

Driver Is Bound To Circuit Court

Lloyd Baker, 27, of the Chemical Plant location, yesterday waived examination in Justice Henry Ranguette's court and was bound to circuit court for trial on an involuntary manslaughter charge.

Baker admitted to police that he was the driver of a car which struck and fatally injured George F. Hallfrisch, 26, of Escanaba, early Sunday morning. The accident occurred in the 1600 block, Ludington street.

Shortly after the accident Baker told police that a "green car" had struck Hallfrisch and then driven away without stopping. Later he admitted to police that it was his car which struck Hallfrisch, and that there had been no hit and run car. Police reported that it was raining and snowing at the time of the accident.

Failing to post a bond, Baker yesterday was held in jail for trial in circuit court.

COWELL BLDG. MUNISING PHONE 162HIGHWAY 13
NEW GATEWAY*Deer Move Out, Hunters
Move In, Set Up
Camps

BY STANLEY K. ERICKSON
Munising—Federal Highway 13, connecting Nahma Junction with Wetmore and Munising, or the upper portion of the Peninsula with the lower part, is beginning to see a lot of use as deer hunters from all parts of the state pour into the surrounding territory.

This highway, once a lonely stretch of gravel road, is now teeming with life as hunters erect tents and pre-fabricated huts along its route in anticipation of making a kill of one of the numerous deer which, throughout the summer and early fall, have been seen along the highway.

It is evident, however, that the deer, hearing the approach of man in large numbers, have taken refuge in the deeper forest and the highway, at present, is quite deserted by the four legged animals.

At present, it has been observed, that on one stretch of the highway, there are six temporary camps set up within a one mile area bordering the road, and that as deer season advances, the number will undoubtedly increase.

Early this fall, conservation officers report, the deer on the highway exceeded by far the number which had been noticed last year, and that automobiles were accidentally killing them off.

FOR SALE

1 Checked Wool Hunting pants—33 in. waist; 1 khaki color duck hunter's coat size 40; 1 sheepskin vest size 38 and 1 vacuum cleaner (Emperial). Inquire: 221 E. Chocelay St., Munising, Michigan. Phone 66.

in large numbers. Last spring, Conservation Officer H. E. Carlson reports, cars killed five deer within a month's time on a one mile area.

Highway 13, contracted to be black-topped, has already been covered for approximately 11 miles north of Nahma and the remaining portion has been well scraped thereby assuring a comfortable trip along its entire route.

There are three other highways leading from Munising. One goes east to St. Ignace and the Sault; the other west to Marquette and the third goes South-west to Treenary to Gladstone and Escanaba. It has been noted this past summer that travel for Manistique and St. Ignace and also to Rapid River, Gladstone and Escanaba has increased over Federal Forest highway 13 to a great extent.

It is a much straighter road, wider and is kept in pretty fair condition having a considerably rough surface only after a rain storm and during the spring break-up.

When the black-topping has been completed, it is estimated a goodly number of cars will be routed over this highway despite the fact it is four miles longer to Rapid River than going by way of Treenary.

To minimize the number of deer killed by automobiles during the spring, summer and fall months, it has been a voiced opinion by many a wildlife booster, including John A. Vizona of Munising, formerly with the State conservation department, that appropriate signs be posted warning the motorists to drive slowly along this highway.

Hunters are again reminded, said conservation officer H. E. Carlson, that though the deer are plentiful in this area, hunting season does not open until November 15 and that headlighting deer is still a violation of the state game laws.

BOOGREN ASKS
VOTE RECOUNT*Demo Sheriff Candidate
Seeks Re-tabulation
Of 4 Precincts

Munising—Russell E. Boogren, Democratic candidate for sheriff in Alger county, has filed a petition with the county clerk for a recount of four of the counties' fifteen precincts.

According to law, a recount petition must be filed within six days after the election. Due to Monday, November 11, a legal holiday, the petition was accepted as legal by the county clerk on Tuesday morning. A fee of $5.00 for each precinct to be recounted was also posted with the county clerk.

Seeking to pick up a margin in his favor over the 78 vote difference in the November 5 election which gave Arthur Moote, Republican, the sheriff job for the county, Boogren is asking a recount of Wetmore, Burt township, (Grand Marais), and Munising city precincts 1 and 2.

Unofficially leading the ballot by 175 votes with 14 of the 15 precincts reported, Boogren's lead was eliminated when precinct 2 of the city of Munising, the 15th precinct, was reported and a 78 vote margin was given to Art Moote to win the race.

Henry Jacobson, Alger county clerk and also clerk for the board of canvassers, said the recount petition had been filed but no date had been set for the recount. The date will be decided upon by the board of canvassers' president.

Members of the board of canvassers are: C. R. Little of Treenary, Frank Debele of Trautvik and George MacKenzie of Munising.

AWAIT TOURNEY*Practice Debate Being Held Tonight At School

The Gladstone high school debate squad is holding a series of practice debates, one of which is taking place tonight at the high school.

Debaters participating in this evening's contest are Carol Cowen and Margaret Jean Hult as a negative team and Helen Canuelle and Patsy Bolger as an affirmative team.

Other debates are scheduled for the near future among the rest of the squad which includes Agnes Cannon, senior veteran of other years and maintain of previous teams, Betty Sigant with one year's experience and Marilyn Bredahl and Art Thivierge, both experienced debaters.

The squad is preparing for the first inter-city debate tournament to be held on December 7. Site of the tournament is as yet undecided. High schools entering debaters in the Upper Peninsula league recently voted on the town to be host to the others. Invitations had been extended by high schools of Gladstone and Ishpeming. Results of the balloting have not yet been released.

The question being debated by high schools throughout Michigan centers around the National Health Act submitted to the 1945-46 Congress. It was introduced in two bills: House Bill 4730 and Senate Bill 1606. The House Bill was never acted upon but the Senate Bill went to the sub-committee on Health and Education which held 20 days of hearing between April and July 12, 1946.

The committee heard testimony from representatives of all factions including the American Medical Association and the Social Security Board. The committee's report was written after its meetings were finished July 12 but the report was not acted upon before the adjournment of Congress.

The question for debate is worded: "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Provide For a Complete System of Medical Care Available to All Citizens at Public Expense."

The question brings in an interesting summary of the development of medical insurance organizations in the past decade through such organizations as the Blue Cross which provides hospitalization through the Michigan Hospital Service to over 1,202,000 and surgical insurance through the Michigan Medical Service to a reported 858,000. Nationally the plan is reported to have enrolled over 21 million persons. Other items indicating Michigan's high rank in the quality of its medical care will be discussed.

FINAL TOURIST CLINIC NOV. 14

More Interest On Part Of Local Resorters Is Urged

Robert McIntosh, of the Michigan State College staff, will discuss "Builders' Problems and Guest Activities" at a meeting in the court house at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

This will be the last of a series of meetings sponsored by the Schoolcraft Manistique Chamber of Commerce in the interest of operators of summer resorts, restaurants, cabin camps and other business establishments that cater to the tourist trade.

"I sincerely hope that there will be a good turnout to the meeting," says Leonard Muthaupt, chamber of commerce secretary. "It is rather discouraging to the sponsors of these high class programs to see their efforts meet with such lack of interest as has been apparent at the three meetings just past."

The talent secured, says the secretary, has been not only expert but the speakers have the ability to make their talks and demonstrations interesting to everyone present. The meetings have been well publicized with newspaper publicity followed up by postals and telephone calls, but no more than twenty have attended any one of these meetings just past.

Two weeks ago, M. Faith McAuley gave a talk and demonstration on the preparation of quantity production of fancy foods. Local restaurant men who attended pronounced it the most helpful lecture of its kind they had ever heard. Twelve people were present.

Last week C. A. Gunn, of the State college, came prepared to talk about ground layout and development, building design and construction and sanitation. There was none, besides the speaker and the secretary, present at the meeting until after 9 o'clock as the two were leaving to go home, when operators of a resort in the Germ-fask vicinity appeared and had a heart to heart talk with Mr. Gunn.

Mr. Gunn not only explained to them answers to their problems concerning proper sites for their cabins and shrubbery and sanitary arrangements, but promised to call at the resort some time in the near future and give suggestions.

Mr. McIntosh, who speaks to tomorrow night, in addition to his regular lecture will present for inspection and explanation an abbreviated set of books for tourist resort owners—a set which is said to be very simple and practical.

Local Resident Is Married In Sault Ste. Marie

In a pretty candle light service which took place on November 7 in the First Methodist church in Sault Ste. Marie, Miss Betty Giddis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Giddis, Eckerman, became the bride of Dewaine Osterhout, son of James Osterhout of Eckerman and Levia Gill of Detroit, former residents of this city.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter T. Ratcliffe at 3:45 p. m.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The bride wore a pearl grey wool dress with aqua, gold and fuchsia trim with matching hat, fuchsia accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds and white button pompons. Her attendant wore a grey crepe dress, black accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses.

On Friday evening the home of the bride's parents was opened for a reception for twenty-five guests, given by Mr. and Mrs. James Osterhout and the bride's parents. Refreshments were served from a lace covered table decorated with orchid and white chrysanthemums. The center-piece was a three tiered wedding cake topped with a bridal motif.

The Giddis home was also the scene of a pretty shower given for the bride-to-be, on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. James Osterhout and Mrs. Joe Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout will make their home in Dearborn.

The bridegroom, a veteran of World War II with thirty-six months of service in the European theater, is employed by the Ford Motor company at Detroit.

Mrs. Chester Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, attended the wedding from Manistique.

Chappuis Of Michigan Is Offensive Leader In Conference

BY JERRY LISKA
Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—Typical of a topsy-turvy season, first-place Illinois and third-place Ohio State will face in their crucial Big Nine game Saturday at Champaign without a single statistical hot-shot.

Official league figures released today showed:

Halfback Bob Chappuis of Michigan continues as the Big Nine's total offensive leader with 607 yards in five games—299 yards by rushing and 308 by passing.

Halfback Vic Schwall of Northwestern kept the pace as the rushing leader with a five-game aggregate of 355, a creditable average of 6.7 per try in 53 attempts, and boosted his scoring lead to 40 points with a touchdown against Indiana.

Quarterbacks Bob De Moss of Purdue and Ben Raimondi of Indiana maintained their spectacular scrap for passing honors with Raimondi swelling his completions percentage to .529 and De Moss keeping in front in total completions with 40, one more than Raimondi.

Nowhere in the league batch of facts and figures does Ohio State or Illinois command an important individual ranking, but still their Champaign battle figures to settle largely a complicated conference stretch run.

Illinois—beaten only by Indiana in five league starts—offers famed Buddy Young as its best ball carrier, but the heralded negro speedster ranks only 11th in net rushing with 172 yards in 49 tries. Verry Moss also is the top Illinois scorer with four touchdowns for 24 points, tied for third with two other players behind second-place Joe Whisler of Ohio State who has 30.

If Ohio State lacks a standout individual performer, however, the Buckeyes do boast plenty of versatility. They have three ball carriers who have averaged more than 5 yards a try, including Bob Brugge with 6.6 and a rushing total of 229; Jerry Krall with 5.9 and 148 yards; and Tommy James with 5.1 and 169 yards.

The Buckeyes have no fewer than four passers, foremost of whom is their surprise-package Quarterback George Spencer with nine completions in 14 attempts.

The league passing championship, incidentally, probably will be settled when Indiana and Purdue meet in their old oaken bucket finale at Lafayette on November 23. Raimondi, who also is the nation's leading passer, has a league record of 39 hits in 74 attempts. De Moss, despite an injured left arm, registered his 40 completions on 84 attempts for a .476 percentage.

The Hoosiers and Boilermakers also figure in the individual scrap for pass-receiving laurels. Lou Mihajlovich, a 166-pound, sticky-fingered end, has a five-game record of 14 receptions for 169 yards. Purdue's End Norman Maloney is deadlocked with Indiana Halfback Mel Grooms for second place with 12 catches each, but the Boilermaker's grabs were good for 139 yards, compared with 87 for Grooms.

Halfback Tex Cox continues to lead the punters with a 39.6-yard average on 39 kicks.

ILLINOIS HOLDS LEAD IN BIG 9

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 12. (AP)—The 1946 football championship of the Western Conference will be decided on a percentage basis with ties counting a half game won and a half game lost, Prof. Frank Richard of Illinois, secretary of the conference faculty committee explained today.

Because the conference race still is closely contested with Illinois, Michigan, Ohio State, Indiana and Iowa all having mathematical title chances, Richard said he was asked to clarify a new conference rule on determining the champion.

In previous years, the conference did not name a champion officially and "newspaper" ratings arbitrarily threw out ties in adjudging the title-winner.

With Illinois, Michigan and Ohio State each scheduled to play two games and Indiana and Iowa one, the standings are:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Illinois	4	1	0	.800
Michigan	3	1	1	.700
Ohio State	2	1	1	.625
Iowa	3	2	0	.600
Indiana	3	2	0	.600

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 12. (AP)—Al Mobley, young Elizabeth negro, won a decisive victory over Fritz Zivic, 146, former welterweight champion from Pittsburgh, in the eight-round feature tonight at the Arena.

Mobley, who weighed 143 pounds the night all the way and pummed Zivic badly in the closing rounds. He bloodied Zivic's nose in the fifth and had his face red and swollen in the last frame.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Sports equipment of virtually all kinds has been in acute shortage the past year or two but nothing in the realm of sports has been more difficult to obtain than bleachers. Last fall an unusually large percentage of high schools awaited receipt of bleachers for which they had placed orders as much as a year in advance. Few received them in time for the football season. The story was the same from every bleacher manufacturer—orders six months, one year and in some cases as much as two years ahead.

The city recreation department placed its order for bleachers to seat 2,500 persons early last spring in the hope that delivery would materialize at least for a substantial part of the softball and baseball season. Inquiries brought the usual response, "We have them on order, but we cannot be sure when we can make delivery." The summer season passed, and yesterday the city recreation department was advised that their new bleachers are enroute. Yes, the price had risen sharply.

The additional seating capacity will find many uses here and the bleachers will be made available to all groups at a nominal rental, designed to liquidate the cost and maintenance of the bleachers over their life expectancy. They will be used, for instance, at the annual ice revue, probably at the Bay de Noc speed skating open, at the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing tournament and for numerous other sports events in which the existing seating capacity is insufficient to meet current demands. The bleachers are eight-tier, and are of modern design.

Sault Ste. Marie not only is planning a three-day sub-regional Golden Gloves boxing tournament but is actually considering the possibility of extending it to four days. Dates already set are Jan. 7-8-9 and if a fourth date is necessary, it will be Jan. 15. The Soo is anticipating a big entry list from Canadian Soo and territory in Canada as far as Sudbury. It is likely, however, that three days will suffice and that most of the other sub-regional will be two-day affairs. The U. P. finals at Escanaba will be Jan. 27-28 and Feb. 3.

Only right tackle Bill Pritula was ailing and his ankle probably will be in shape in another day or two.

Wolverine assistant coaches took charge of setting up Wisconsin plays in the varsity freshman scrimmage while Head Coach Fritz Crisler attended funeral services for his father in law W. P. Adams at Chicago.

Cadet Tilt Cuts Irish Average In Offensive Figures

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Nov. 12. (AP)—Notre Dame, held to 225 net yards in last Saturday's scoreless affair with Army, has tumbled into a first place deadlock with Boston College as the most offensive minded college football team in the country, figures by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau revealed today.

Prior to the "football game of the century" in New York's Yankee Stadium, the South Bend Irish had piled up an average of 430 yards per game in each of their five contests.

But their day's production against the Cadets lowered their mean to 396.5 for six games, the identical figure built up by Coach Denny Myers Boston Eagles in the same number of games.

It is the lowest ranking figure since the pre-war season of 1941, and indicates definitely that college football again is back on an even keel. In 1944 Army romped to a National record on total yardage per game and promptly established a better one in 1945.

The ten leaders in each department:

Total offense — (gains rushing and passing)—Notre Dame and Boston College, 396.5 yards per game each; UCLA, 388.1; Nevada, 371.1; Utah, 363.3; Georgia, 361.9; Texas, 358.8; Pennsylvania, 358.2; Northwestern, 355.6; Hardin-Simmons 348.4.

Rushing offense—Detroit, 284.9 yards gained per game; Notre Dame, 282.2; Utah, 279.7; Hardin-Simmons, 278.9; UCLA, 261; Pennsylvania, 259.8; Northwestern 255.3; Yale, 240; Mississippi State, 236; Army, 233.1.

Forward passing offense—(average yards gained per game)—Nevada, 189.6; Texas, 176.8; Boston College, 173.9; Georgia, 159.1; Texas Mines, 159; Princeton, 155.2; Oklahoma A & M, 152.3; Marquette, 151.3; Florida, 151.3; Arizona, 145.7.

Punting — Nevada, 41.2 yards average per punt; Texas Mines, 41.2; New Mexico, 41.1; Mississippi, 40.6; VMI, 40.2; Miami (Fla.), 39.9; Southern California, 39.8; Cornell, 39.6; South Carolina, 39.6; Alabama, 39.2.

Silver Fox Cage Team Opens Drill

Independent basketball got underway this past week when Coach Glenn "Sluggo" Fleetwood held initial drills for the Hermansville Silver Foxes, one of last season's most powerful independent quintets.

Runners-up at the Hermansville and Powers tourney and winners at Escanaba, the Foxes again will have a veteran studded outfit with all men returning.

The Silver Foxes have joined the league which was recently formed at Escanaba and the first game of the season is scheduled for December 3.

BIVINS BESTED

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12. (AP)—Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati survived a nine-count knockdown in the third round tonight and went on to carve out a unanimous decision over Jimmy Bivins, ranking Cleveland heavyweight, in a ten-round feature bout at the Gardens. Charles weighed 175 and Bivins 166.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO BUTTER
Chicago, Nov. 12. (AP)—(USDA)—Butter, firm: AA 93 score, 80.5 to 81; A 92, 79; B 90, 77.5 to 77.75; C 89, 74.5.

CHICAGO EGGS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
Chicago, Nov. 12. (AP)—Good and choice fed cattle sold strong today with some sales 25 to 30 cents higher than Monday's trade. Lower grade fed material held steady and cows and bulls were from steady to 20 cents off.

A top price of $34.00 went to two loads of choice fed yearling steers, while most good to low-choice brought $23.00 to $26.00. Strictly choice yearling heifers merited $31.00. Strictly good beef cows brought up to $18.00, good weight sausage hogs $16.50, vealers $21.00, and choice feeder steers $18.50.

The popular price on hogs was the top price at $24.00, and most good and choice butchers sold under a quarter of that price. Some later sales were slightly easier, but clearance was good. Sows brought $23.00 to $23.25. Shippers bought 1,500 head of the 11,000 hogs on sale; packers brought in 6,500. Slaughter lambs ruled 25 to 40 cents higher with better quality natives and woolled westerns bringing from $24.50 to $25.00, the top woolled yearlings brought up to $20.00, and scarce slaughter ewes sold from $8.00 to $9.45. Total receipts included 3,000 cattle, 1,000 calves, and 5,000 sheep.

Heavy Hitters Usually Go To American League

By HARRY GRAYSON

Boston, (NEA).—Rudolph Preston York's 375-foot smash into the furthest reaches of the left field stands at Sportsman's Park, breaking up the first game of the World Series, quickly demonstrated that the American League has something besides a pitching bulge on the National.

Just as the elder circuit had no pitcher matching Newhouse, Feller or Ferriss, it had no distance hitter comparable to Greenberg, Williams or Keller.

This doesn't mean, however, that the Cardinals entered the Series entirely without pitching, as Howie Pollet so aptly showed in the opener and The Cat Brecken further proved by turning in his sixth straight shutout.

But figures give you the best slant on where the balance of power lies.

American Leaguers manufactured 82 more home runs than National Leaguers during the campaign, the full count being 631 as against 549. This despite the fact that the junior loopers tackled the more formidable pitching in more spacious arenas.

Outside of the right field wall at Cleveland's antiquated League Park, for example, there is nowhere that home runs are as cheap as those made possible by the short foul lines of the Polo Grounds.

American League had 15 players who swatted that many home runs or more, the National only six.

Freshman Ralph Kiner, of the Pirates won the National League home run championship with 23, which was exceeded by Joe DiMaggio's 25, Pat Seery's 26, King Kong Keller's 30, Ted Williams' 38 and Hank Greenberg's 44 in the American.

For some unexplainable reason the long ball hitters seem to gravitate to the American League. This was true before Babe Ruth revolutionized the game. It was so back in the dear old dead ball days, when in 1911 J. Franklin Baker earned the tag, Home Run, by belting a grand total of nine in a season.

It may be, of course, that the American League's foxy foragers search longer and farther for the big, brawny boys, yet you hardly can say that they outscout National League sleuths, especially those of the St. Louis and Brooklyn clubs.

Generally speaking, American League clubs more richly recompense the superior athletes, although comparatively few prospects take the pay envelope into consideration at the outset, so eager are they to break in.

Home run hitters just naturally run to the American League. York's poke giving the Red Sox the jump in the World Series was again reminiscent of the Detroit front office committing the unforgivable sin of strengthening a contender when they swapped the Injun to the Sox for shortstop Eddie Lake.

Nor did the Detroit moguls do the Red Sox any harm when they let Joe Cronin take Mike Higgins on waivers.

Steve O'Neill suspected Rudy York and Pinky Higgins were washed up, but all they did was help take the Tigers and Yankees to the cleaners.

Mental Wizard Is Nimble At 79

(AP) Newsfeatures

Paris.—At 79 Jacques Inaudi claims to be still the mathematical mental wizard who once confounded the French Academy of Sciences with his rapid-fire mental calculations in 1892, beat 27 different makes of calculation machines in a speed test in America and was received by heads of state including Edward VII.

Pottering around in the flower garden of his small suburban house at Champigny, Inaudi recalled that he only learned to read and write when he was 30 years old, after he had been brought to Paris to be seen by Paul Broca, the great brain research specialist.

Born of poor parents in northern Italy, Inaudi says he became interested in figures at the age of five when he developed a mania for counting everything, after his mother died and his father brought him to France. At 13 his genius for mental reckoning made him an attraction at a Marseille cafe where he worked as busboy.

Inaudi asked to be given a figure to prove he was still spry in mathematical acrobatics. Given the number 627,318, he announced, faster than the result could be taken down, that its cube was 246,867,118,312,401,432 or enough to make any national debt look like pin money.

Inaudi suggested it should be checked on by the public "to give the readers something to do." All it requires he said is 108 individual multiplication operations and adding up 120 different units in the results.

Cubs Roster Lists Only One Freshman

Chicago, Nov. 12. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today announced their 1947 roster of 46 signed and unsigned players, only one of whom has never before been in Cub uniform.

The added starter is Cliff Chambers, 24-year-old southpaw pitcher purchased late last season from Los Angeles of the Pacific coast league. Chambers, a find of Scout Dutch Ruether, won 18 and lost 15 for the Angels last campaign.

The Cubs have 19 pitchers, eight catchers, 10 infielders and nine outfielders available for 1947 spring training, which opens Feb. 21 on Catalina Island.

LOUIS HAS PRIZE HORSES

Toronto, Nov. 12. (AP)—World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis has entered five show horses in the Royal Winter Fair which opens here tonight. The horses have won many awards in both Canada and the United States and recently showed at Ontario fairs in Kincardine and Wingham. Louis currently is giving boxing exhibition in Hawaii.

Need Bill Of Sale To Cut Yule Trees

State law does not require inspection of cut Christmas trees, it was pointed out yesterday by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, but it does require persons possessing Christmas trees to show bills of sale. Forms may be procured at the county agent's office, or at conservation headquarters, state police headquarters, the sheriff's office, or by writing directly to the state department of agriculture at Lansing.

Department of agriculture inspectors again will be required to enforce the provisions of the evergreen tree act, or Christmas tree law, in cooperation with the conservation department, state police and local enforcing agencies.

No person is allowed to cut, remove or transport Christmas trees, evergreen boughs or other parts of plant material without obtaining the permission of the property owner and getting a bill of sale from the person owning the property to show this permission has been granted. However, any tree or plant material with roots attached constitutes nursery stock and must not be moved or transplanted in Michigan until it has been inspected by an official inspector of the department and a certificate issued indicating its freedom from disease and insects.

The department of agriculture will establish highway police posts operating on a 24-hour basis each day throughout the season and evergreens, will be checked by staff inspectors.

Electric Utility Gross Income Totals $136,016

Operation of Escanaba's electric utility for the year ending June 30 resulted in gross income totaling $136,016.18, according to a report by Hugo Lilliquist, superintendent of the electric utility, in a report of Escanaba's city government for the past fiscal year.

Copies of the annual report are now being distributed in the city, it was announced by City Manager A. V. Aronson.

"We have endeavored to review the most important phases of the services rendered during the past fiscal year and to briefly present some of the plans for the immediate future," the city manager said. "Good government can be maintained if the citizens remain well informed, and if they continue to show interest and support their government."

The city of Escanaba owns the electric distribution system, and purchases electric power at a wholesale rate from the Upper Michigan Power & Light company.

Total operating revenue of the electric utility for the past fiscal year was $302,190.03, and the total operating expense $167,121.17.

The gross income from the electric utility was $136,016.18, and the net profit to the city $136,014.66. Of the net profit to the city, $45,439.20 was paid to the city in taxes on the utility, and interest on investment, leaving the net profit of the utility at $90,575.46.

The electric utility now has 4-

933 meters in service, an addition of 231 customers in the past fiscal year.

The average annual bill of residential customers was $33.83, and that of commercial customers $147.20. There was an increase in the amount of electricity used both by residential and commercial customers, with residential increasing from 853 to 946 kilowatt hours, and commercial from 3,703 to 4,171 kilowatt hours.

It was shown in the report that the average rate per kilowatt hour for residential customers has declined from 7½ cents in 1936 to about 3½ cents in 1946; while the amount of electricity used has increased by annual average from 350 to 900 kilowatt hours.

For commercial customers, during the 1936-1946 period, the average rate per kilowatt hour has decreased from 6 cents to about 3½ cents; and the average annual kilowatt hours used has increased from about 1,800 to over 4,000.

During the past fiscal year the electric department has devoted most of its time to interdepartmental work and industrial expansion, it was reported by Supt. Lilliquist.

"It is expected, however, that during the coming year more time will be spent for the reconstruction of the distribution system and the revamping of the street lighting in the residential area into a more modern system," he reported.
